Acknowledgments

By using Loyae's products, you consent to the following:

- Tracking your usage of Loyae through software such as Google Analytics and/or Hotjar.
- Data collection and storage, including all information that you explicitly provide to Loyae as well as your IP address and other pieces of metadata stored in your browser.

We honor your privacy:

- The data we collected will not be sold to 3rd parties. Much of the data we collect is for analytical purposes.
- Loyae is PCI-compliant to ensure the safety and confidentiality of your credit card information.

Terms

Other terms regarding security:

- Never access any api.loyae.com endpoints using a link from an untrusted source.
- Loyae, nor Loyae's owner is legally responsible for destructive technical outcomes as a result of using the product.
- Loyae is not responsible for data breaches of our servers nor databases if they contain your personal information.
- By using Loyae, you agree to not abuse API endpoints; this includes using endpoints for malicious purposes such as 'tricking' our servers into crediting your account or any other forms of cyber attacks.
- You agree not to commit refund fraud, click fraud, or any other malicious forms of fraud.
